Welcome to the Loire Valley!

In our region, history lovers will be able to satisfy their curiosity and their thirst for knowledge during fascinating visits organized to discover the castles.

Wine lovers can discover a rich land, with a production that has been developing through the centuries, until it became the largest vineyard in France today.

It is also possible to discover our landscapes in an unusual way; by flying over the area in a hot air balloon, an ultralight, a helicopter or by embarking on the traditional regional boat.

If your preference is nature, the intimate gardens of the Loire Valley and the forests of Sologne are an exquisite terrain for numerous bucolic walks. And don't forget the gourmet delights of our region!

Wine and the vineyards of the Loire Valley

Domaine De Veilloux

At the gateway to the Loire, between the Loire and Sologne, the production area covers 574 hectares in 25 communes of the Loir-et-Cher (41) region. Some forty winegrowers produce 27,000 hectolitres a year. Strongly marked by the erosion of the Loire (erosion and deposition of terraces), the geology of the Cheverny area is quite original compared to that of other Loire Valley appellations. Broadly speaking, it stems either from soils with a predominantly sandy texture, or from soils developed on a limestone substratum.

Reservation only

Domaine Hervé Villemade

In the heart of the Cheverny appellation, in the commune of Cellettes, the Villemade family naturally cultivates vines. In 1995, Hervé took over the reins of the family estate, created in 1939 by his grandfather Désiré. His sister Isabelle joined him in 1999. Against all odds, they are both convinced of the quality of the wines when they come from a precise biological work of the soil, the plant and the material. The course of the estate changes completely and weed killers and chemical products are forbidden on the estate.

Gourmet discovery

Assa - Michelin star

Located 25 minutes from our establishment

Anthony and Fumiko's cooking follows the daily variations in supply from their producers. Hence the name "Assa", which means "morning" in Japanese. This approach is the starting point for their creations. They wish to offer you a journey influenced by the Loire with a Japanese subtlety. The restaurant is open from Wednesday to Sunday, for lunch and dinner.

La Vieille Tour - Michelin star

Located 10 minutes from our establishment

This 15th century building located in the heart of the Loire castles, in Cellettes in the Loir-et-Cher, has been run since 2016 by Alexis Letellier, the Chef, who is originally from Nantes, and his wife, Alice, a sommelier, who is herself from the region. Through their cooking, they wish to highlight local products by combining them with flavors from around the world. The restaurant is open for lunch from Thursday to Tuesday, and for dinner from Tuesday to Saturday (closed on Wednesday).
